ADDITIONAL NOTES ON SHELL BEAD MONEY OF MALAITA, B. S. I.

By MENDEL L. PETERSON, LIEUT. SC, USN

(Author's Note: This discussion is based largely on a memorandum written by Major D. C. C. Trench, District Commissioner, Malaita in answer to my request to His Honor, The Secretary to the Government, Honiara, Guadalcanal, British Solomons Islands Protectorate.)

The Malaita shell bead money may be separated into two general classes sharply distinguished each from the other in methods of fabrication and in system of division of their monetary units into subdivisions.

The more plentiful of the two is the so-called Lana-Lana money which derives its name from the fact that its area of manufacture and one of the chief sources of raw materials for its manufacture center on Lana-Lana Lagoon. The money consists of white and red beads the manufacture of which was described in "Jungle Mints," in the February, 1946 issue of THE NUMISMATIST.

The other class of shell bead money, and that of lesser importance and greater rarity, is the Koio money, named likewise for the area in which it is made. This money is no longer made and even now specimens of it are hard come by. Unfortunately most of the details of its manufacture have been forgotten, but a few old men remember that the beads were chipped out of the shells while being held in the fingers, a process which they remember as a very painful one. The beads were then drilled, probably in the same manner as the Lana-Lana beads, and strung. They are smaller in size than the Lana-Lana and are a pinkish white in color. The Koio money has one great advantage over the Lana-Lana as a circulating medium. It is divisible into units valued as low as three pence while the par value of the smallest unit of Lana-Lana money is one shilling.

According to Major Trench, practically all the shell bead money is made by pagans though some is made by Christians (see "Jungle Mints.") The Lana-Lana peoples customarily sacrifice pigs to their ancestors before diving on the reefs for the shell from which they make the beads. This, they believe, assures them of a fruitful harvest of shell and protects them from noxious water creatures such as barracuda.

Major Trench recounts a most interesting occurrence to which he attributes the current shortage of bead money: "During the recent unsettled period, much native money was buried and lost or otherwise destroyed, and little made, due to the difficulty of moving about to collect the necessary materials. Also, one of the main 'mints' was unfortunately inadvertently bombed by allied aircraft on Aug 6, 1942 and completely destroyed with much valuable money making material. This village has not yet been rebuilt, and cannot be until some 200 pigs can be collected and sacrificed to the outraged ancestors."

Both the Lana-Lana and Koio monies circulate in definite units with fixed par values in British currency. These units are never broken "to make change" but must circulate each as an entity and for this reason there is a critical shortage of small change, British coppers and small silver ordinarily answering this need.

The tables which follow were furnished by Major Trench. The values given are prewar and do not represent their real value today which, since the wartime influx of British and United States currency, has greatly appreciated.

Lana-Lana Money

Name	Value	Description
Tafuliae	40/	10 strings of alternating red, white and black (brown)() beads, the whole about 7 ft. long. Purchasing power, 1000 taro (*).
Tafuliae 'flash'	varies	Same as Tafuliae, but longer. Length varies (hence variation in value) but in general about 9 ft.
Sikua'ae	50/	Same as Tafuliae, but 9 strings only. Not usually differentiated from the Tafuliae.
Galaibata	8/	One three foot length of red shell.
Galia	1/	One three foot length of white shell.
Fura	4/	Four Galia tied into one money.
Isagalia	40/	Ten Fura tied together.
Batauliuli	5/	3ft. length of red shells which have not been subjected to final polishing process.
Fulu	50/	A belt 9" wide and 4 ft. long made of red shell money woven into a fairly tight net, the whole decorated with white and brown shell beads, and garnished with human teeth (if available).
Firae	250/	Similar to Tafuliae, but made with more red money beads, and only employing the choicest varieties of these.

Koio Money

Baniau	1 Tafuliae or 1000 taro	6 strings about 6 ft. long.
Nima'ae	Same as Baniau	5 strings about 6 ft. long.

Fafa'a	$\frac{2}{3}$ Tafuliae	4 strings about 6 ft. long.
Sau'ru	$\frac{1}{2}$ Tafuliae	3 strings about 6 ft. long.
Gerabi	$\frac{1}{3}$ Tafuliae	2 strings about 6 ft. long.
Kwagebata	$\frac{1}{6}$ Tafuliae	1 string about 6 ft. long.
Lau'usu	2/ or 100 taro	One string from finger tip to bicep in length.
Lomenima	1/ 6d	One string from finger tip to elbow in length.
Lua'ae'u	6d	One string from finger tip to mid forearm in length.
Ae'u	3d	One string from finger tip to wrist bone in length.

(*) The taro root is a staple food of the Melanesians. It is obtained principally from plants of the genus Colocasia, it being the root stalk of the plant. It is a popular food with the Polynesians too, the familiar Poi of the Hawaiians being a paste of taro.

() The brown beads are ornaments and are cut from the fruit of an unidentified fresh water plant.

In addition to the units given in the above, both the Lana-Lana and Koio monies are broken up and restrung into other units by the peoples of Little Malaita and Ariari. The most important of these is the Hatahana which consists of Galiabata unstrung and reassembled into four strings of six feet each and having a prewar value of about 64 shillings.

WORLD PEACE MEDAL

Shortly after V-J Day, while designing a medal for the Society of Medalists, the first idea that came to me was "World Peace," which naturally was on everybody's mind and, therefore, very timely.

The war was over; the misery and the horror had gone. I have tried to portray a simple and cheerful "World Peace" which would rest the mind from the dismal past and look only to the bright future.

On the obverse of the medal a figure symbolizing peace floats over the world uniting all countries.

On the reverse, the dove and the olive branch symbolize peace, while the book stands for knowledge and education, the guards of permanent peace.

The inscription is the Douay version of the original Christ quotation.

NINETEENTH CENTURY CROWN SIZE COINS OF EUROPE: A SERIES

By JOHN S. DAVENPORT, Galesburg, Ill.

XIII. HUNGARY

The year 894 saw the Magyars under their leader Arpad arrive and settle in what is now known as Hungary. They defeated the neighboring Germans and Moravians and in the next century overran and occupied Transylvania. They accepted Christianity, and under Stephan I (997-1038) the Hungarian church and state were firmly established. About 1190 the crown became hereditary in the Arpad dynasty, which continued to reign until 1301.

The Arpads were followed by the Anjou dynasty (1308-1382); then the crown went through the female heir to Sigismund of Luxembourg and then through his daughter to Albert V, duke of Austria, who became king of the Romans and king of Bohemia. After his death in 1439 the country was dominated for a while by the Hunyadi family until 1490. Chaos and a succession of rulers followed before the Turks arrived. For the next 150 years Turks and Austrians partitioned and influenced Hungary almost at will. Traditional Hungarian influence remained strongest in Transylvania. The Austrian dukes became kings of royal Hungary. The Turks were finally ousted in 1699 and Hungary changed from an elective to a hereditary monarchy under the Hapsburgs. After a final burst of nationalistic endeavor under Rakoczy the Hapsburgs reigned supreme (see account of Austria).

Under the Austrian monetary system talers were coined by Francis I and Ferdinand I in the 1830's. These have obverses similar to the Austrian pieces, but on the reverse are the madonna and child symbolic of Hungary.

The formation of the dual monarchy in 1867 confirmed a separate currency for Hungary, but large size 5 korona pieces were not minted until 1900. On the fortieth anniversary of the crowning of Francis Joseph as King of Hungary a commemorative 5 korona piece appeared.

With the collapse of the dual monarchy after the close of World War I, a Hungarian republic was followed by a Soviet republic, which gave way to a restored monarchy under the regency of Admiral Horthy. The new currency was composed of pengos and fillers. For the tenth anniversary of the formation of the regency a 5 pengo appeared in 1930. Then in 1938 a coin of the same size and value was issued for the 900th anniversary of the death of St. Stephan, who had ruled Hungary as king from 997 to 1038. The following year another coin with Horthy's portrait appeared; and in the midst of the war still a third, which though very similar to the 1939 issue was struck in aluminum.

XIV. LIECHTENSTEIN

The principality was established in 1719 by the union of the lordships of Schellenburg and Vaduz as a fief of the Holy Roman Empire. With the dissolution of the latter, Liechtenstein became a member of the Confederation of the Rhine in 1806 and of the German Confederation in 1815. From 1866 on it was an independent state though closely associated with Austria until 1919, when it switched to a closer union with Switzerland.

All of Liechtenstein's large size modern silver coins were issued under the long reigning Prince Johann II (1858-1929), who succeeded his father at the age of eighteen. The taler of 1862, issued while the state was still associated with the German Confederation and hence following the taler standard, shows the Prince as a young man. His second issue, picturing him as an old man, follows the Austrian currency set up in 1892 with an issue of 5 kronen pieces. Liechtenstein adopted Swiss currency in 1921 and joined the Swiss customs union in 1924. A 5 franken coin of this latter year records this shift.

XV. MONACO

The six square miles which constitute the sovereign principality of Monaco came under control of the Genoese family of the Grimaldi in 968. The natural association with France lasted until the seventeenth century when for a time Spanish influence dominated, before being superseded again by the French. The male line died out in 1731, but the husband of the last female heir took the family name and carried on. In 1793 the rulers were turned out and Monaco annexed to France. But restoration of family and independence was reestablished in 1814-15. The territory was reduced to its present size by sale and annexation to France and Sardinia during the nineteenth century. It is now nominally under French protection, being entirely surrounded except on the sea side by French territory.

A single issue of large size silver appeared in 1837 with the head of Honore V (1819-1841), reflecting the French influence in design and value.

XVI. SAN MARINO

This republic, the smallest in the world, only 32 square miles, is tucked away in north-central Italy. The population is about 13,000. Traditionally its origin dates from the fourth century. Its independence was officially recognized by the Papacy in 1631, after several attempts (more came subsequently) to subdue it. Various political reforms in the twentieth century have broadened the base for popular government and restored some of the ancient procedures. Since the republic is entirely surrounded by Italy, it is necessarily closely joined economically and socially with the latter. The currency follows Italian models; and coins in bronze, silver, and gold have been issued.

VINSON'S NAME ON DOLLAR CERTIFICATES

By ROBERT H. LLOYD, A. N. A. 3024, North Tonawanda, N. Y.

During the last four months Silver Certificates, series 1935B, bearing the name of Fred M. Vinson, Secretary of Treasury, have appeared in circulation. Thus, we have the first change in the signatures of our paper money since 1933 when Mr. Morgenthau replaced William H. Woodin during the first year of Mr. Roosevelt's administration. W. A. Julian continues as Treasurer of the United States.

Collectors will be disappointed, however, to know that it is no longer easy to obtain on the one dollar certificates consecutive numbers bearing different signatures. The reason for this is that in 1937, when the Treasury adopted the use of logotypes to print the signatures on the one dollar bills, most printings are alike after a new logotype is placed in use. Under the old system and on the higher denominations, the names were engraved in the plate.

The use of old plates and new plates concurrently resulted in consecutive serial numbers being printed from alternate plates; six notes in a row signed by Mr. Woodin following six by Mr. Morgenthau. These consecutively numbered notes with different signatures were quite common throughout the twenties and early thirties. They have always been prized by collectors. The use of logotype signatures precludes this mixture of names because the insert of the new logotype prevents the use of the old logotype. Hence, while there are thousands of different signature notes consecutively numbered under the old system, there are relatively few pairs of 1935B and 1935A dollar certificates which will have the Vinson-Morgenthau combination. Whoever is the owner of this set of certificates has indeed a rare item.

Now that Mr. Truman has appointed Mr. Snyder as Secretary in place of Mr. Vinson, who is to become Chief Justice, we may expect to see Mr. Snyder's name sometime next fall on the series 1935C.

It remains to be seen whether or not the Treasury will extend the use of logotype signatures to the higher denominations. Our beginning in 1937 with the series 1935A dollar bills was a slow start. The Dominion of Canada has used logotype signatures since the early twenties on all denominations.

The writer believes the first Vinson certificates appeared in the serial run D-D, but at just what point the serial numbers record the change is undetermined. Serial runs C-D are Morgenthau plates. Mr. Morgenthau's name appeared on more pieces of paper money than any other Treasury official in the history of the United States.

NEW OR RECENT ISSUES

DESCRIBED BY ERNST KRAUS

Croatia

2 Kune, 1941. Zinc. Obverse: A checkerboard shield surrounded by NEZAVISNA DRZAVA HRVATSKA (Independent State of Croatia.) Reverse: Value and date within circle of twisted rope. (E. Kraus)

Czechoslovakia

1 Korun, 1946. Nickel. Obverse: Lion surrounded by legend; date below. Reverse: Kneeling woman holding sheaf of wheat. Large numeral 1. Designed by O. Spaniel. This is the first coin issued since Czechoslovakia was liberated. The design is the same as the pre-war issue, but struck on a much smaller planchet. (Jan Habetin)

Curacao

2 1/2 Gulden, 1944. Silver. Obverse: Bust of Queen Wilhelmina to l. Reverse: Crowned arms dividing value. Date below and at left D (Denver) mint mark. (S. J. Curiel and P. F. Klaasz)

(Mr. Curiel, District Secretary for the A. N. A. in Curacao, Netherlands West Indies, generously donated the above coin as well as nine other coins to the A. N. A. collection. His gift is gratefully acknowledged.)

Gwalior

1/4 Anna, 1942. Brass. Obverse: Bust of the ruler to l. Reverse: Arms, value, and date. Smaller planchet than the 1929 issue. The Samvat date is 1999. (M. Kortjohn)

India

1/4 and 1/2 Rupee, 1946. Nickel.

Obverse: Crowned head of King George VI to l. Reverse Tiger walking to l; Value above, date below. These nickel alloy coins are replacing the subsidiary silver coins of the same values. (Chase National Bank Collection of Moneys of the World)

Lebanon

Madagascar

50 Centimes, 1943. Bronze. Obverse: Cross of Lorraine, value, date, and inscription HONNEUR PATRIE, LIBERTE-EGALITE-FRATERNITE on ribbon. Reverse: Cock and shield. MADAGASCAR below.

Monaco

2 Francs, no date. Aluminum. Obverse: Head of Prince Louis II to l.

Reverse: Crowned arms on mantle. Value below. Paris mint mark. Similar to the one franc pieces previously reported but larger planchet. (E. Kraus)

Poland

1 Groszy, 1923. Zinc. Obverse: Displayed eagle surrounded by legend. Mint mark to r. Reverse: Value in wreath of oak leaves. There is also a 10 groszy in zinc dated 1932. Both are the same design of the nickel coins of that date but have the mint mark of a small arrow indicating Warsaw. After invading Poland the Germans used the old dies to strike coins in base metal. There is a 5 groszy in zinc dated 1939, of similar design, but smaller than the earlier bronze coin. The planchet is holed. (H. H. Kurth and H. X. Boesel)

Romania

500 Lei, 1941, Silver. Obverse:

MISCELLANEOUS NOTES FROM THE UNITED STATES MINT

Special Communication to The Numismatist

Operations at United States Mints during the 1946 fiscal year, ended June 30, showed a levelling off from the peak for the year 1945. During the previous five war years, the Mints produced a total of over ten billion domestic coins.

The total number of pieces struck during the 1946 fiscal year was 1,658,127,100 with a value of $78,003,170. The 1945 comparable period saw a record number of pieces struck, 2,646,134,101. Face value of 1945 fiscal year coinage was $124,754,925.25.

Nellie Tayloe Ross, Director of the Mint, said that a renewed heavy demand upon the Treasury for coins, however, has required the Mints again to accelerate production, particularly at Denver and at Philadelphia where the Mint is now operating on a round-the-clock basis. She said that all indications point to an upswing in coinage needs in the immediate months ahead. The call for coins is governed by the volume of business.

The Mint provided approximately one million decorations during the past fiscal year for the Army, Navy, Coast Guard and Marines. Record breaking medal orders placed with the Mint to meet citations and awards for service personnel will keep this activity at capacity operations for many months. Medals executed during the year for sale to the public through the Philadelphia Mint included the Franklin D. Roosevelt Memorial Medal and the Truman Medal of the Presidential Series.

Gold medals which the Congress recently authorized, honoring the General of the Army, George Catlett Marshall, and Fleet Admiral Ernest Joseph King, will be produced by the Mint during the forthcoming year.

Production of the new Roosevelt 10-cent piece was inaugurated during 1946. While relatively few have appeared in circulation for the reason that many persons are holding on to them, believing they are "rare," enough have been released to date to supply one to every man, woman and child in the country, and production of this coin is being continued at a rapid pace.

Coinage of the war-time nickel consisting of 35% silver, 56% copper and 9% manganese has been discontinued. Since January 1, 1946, the Mints have been producing the pre-war 5-cent piece composed of 25% nickel and 75% copper.

Expansion started at the Denver Mint in the last fiscal year will double coinage capacity at that Mint.

The Mint manufactured 1,198,811,798 pieces of coinage for friendly Governments, during the fiscal year. Countries for which coins were made included: Colombia, Cuba, El Salvador, Ethiopia, Netherlands, Philippine Islands, Saudi-Arabia and Venezuela.

The following table shows domestic coinage executed, by Mints, during the fiscal year 1946:

DOMESTIC COINAGE EXECUTED, BY VARIOUS MINTS, DURING THE FISCAL YEAR 1946

POSTSCRIPT TO "CULION LEPER COLONY CURRENCY"

Gilbert S. Perez

Many inquiries have come to me relative to new issues of the Culion Leper Colony coinage. Since the publication of the American Numismatic Society's monograph on this subject only two additional tokens have been issued.

In 1930 the Commonwealth Treasurer made a contract with the firm of Luis Zamora for the striking of dies for new 1c and 10c tokens for Culion. On the obverse of the 1c appears the bust of Dr. Jose Rizal who was executed by the Spaniards in 1896 and on the 10c the bust of Andres Bonifacio, another Filipino hero. The dies however, were very poorly tempered and broke after the striking of the first few tokens. In August, 1930, the Treasurer wrote to the firm informing it that the dies for the coins were found to have been unsatisfactory and stating that under the circumstances "It would appear that it would be in order to ask you to refund to this Office the amount paid you by warrant #33879." Evidently, it was not in order, for new and better tempered dies were submitted by the firm and these were sturdy enough to stand the wear and tear for the coinage of the new 1c and 10c of 1930.

Collectors of tokens who have the monograph of this coinage can therefore add two additional numbers to their list:

17—10 centavo, Obv. Bust of Andres Bonifacio in circle. Leg. Leper Colony and Stations, Philippine Islands. Rev. 10 in circle below 1930. Leg. Philippine Health Service. Leper Coin. 10 centavos.

18—1 centavo, Obv. Bust of Jose Rizal in circle. Leg: Leper Colony and stations, Philippine Islands. Rev: 1 in circle, 1930 below. Leg: Philippine Health Service, Leper coin. 1 cent.

The Culion Leper Colony is still operating. During the invasion the Japanese did not molest the colony, neither did they provide food or medicine and so that as a consequence, many of the inmates died of starvation and malnutrition. During the occupation, the Sisters of Charity tried to evacuate a group of young girl lepers from Culion to Iloilo. When the little boat arrived at the wharf in Iloilo it was met by a squad of Japanese soldiers and the entire group was machinegunned and the boat was burned. Only the patron (pilot) of the boat escaped by hiding under the city wharf.

NEW COINS OBTAINABLE FROM U. S. TREASURY DEPARTMENT

The numerous requests received for information as to how to obtain new issues directly from the U. S. Treasury Department, prompts us to publish this recently received communication from that department. Those who wish to avail themselves of this opportunity should carefully follow the directions given below. This will avoid unnecessary correspondence and delays. Be sure to include an exact list of the pieces wanted.

Only the Coins Listed May Be Supplied. Limit: Two of Each From Each Mint.

Coins marked out are not available and there is no fixed time for the mints to begin coining each year.

All 1946 dimes are Roosevelt dimes since no dimes of other design have been coined in 1946. No Roosevelt dimes minted in 1945.

Applications for available coins should be addressed to Treasurer of the United States, Cash Division, Washington 25, D. C. and should be accompanied by a remittance for the face value of the coins plus an amount sufficient to cover the charges by registered mail. Coins sent without registration will be at buyer's risk.

Remittances should be drawn to the order of the Treasurer of the United States as payee and may be in the form of Postal Money Order, Postal Note or Bank Cashier's check. Please do not send personal checks or remittances made payable to the Treasurer of the United States by endorsement.

The Treasury Cannot Undertake to Furnish Coins That Are Free From Tarnish or Scratches.

Information concerning available medals may be obtained from the United States Mint, Philadelphia, Pa.

The Treasurer's office does not maintain a mailing list of the names of persons who desire to be notified when new coins are minted.

TENTATIVE LIST OF SUTLER TOKENS AND SCRIP

Issued By Sutlers Of The Armies Of The Civil War, 1861-1864

By J. J. CURTO and MAX M. SCHWARTZ

ARRANGEMENT: The tokens are listed according to alphabetical arrangement of the sutler's name, where such appears. Otherwise, they are listed alphabetically by states from which the military organization originated, and within such states in numerical order. Where more than one denomination of a sutler has come to our attention, we have listed the lowest denomination first and the others in order of ascending values. Where the same set of dies, both obverse and reverse, have been used on more than one metal, we have assigned subdivision letters, giving the second specimen the letter A. Similar subdivision letters are assigned to such varieties as appear only occasionally with a blank reverse, a reeded edge or with different incused figures.

PUNCTUATION: Where several denominations were issued by the same sutler, the punctuation will occasionally differ from size to size. This was undoubtedly caused by the lack of space on the smaller pieces not permitting the fullest duplication of the punctuation on the larger pieces. Generally the legends for the tokens of a particular sutler will be the same, irrespective of size. Inasmuch as this is intended to be a tentative list, rather than a complete cataloguing, we have set forth the punctuation marks and legends as they are found on the smallest denominations in our cabinets, and have not repeated this information for the larger values.

SIZES: Sizes are given in what is known as the American scale, i. e. sixteenths of an inch. Approximately 90% of those listed were actually measured with a pair of fine brass calipers and are quoted to the nearest half of the subdivisions of such scale. Many will be found to differ in size from previous references. Due to the fact that the majority of these tokens were struck on very thin planchets, without limiting collars on the dies and without milling, some of the edges are not perfectly round. It is therefore quite probable that specimens of the same token may vary in size.

REMARKS: Under this heading, the planchets are construed as thin and edges plain unless otherwise specified.

REVERSES: Wherever possible, reverses have been numbered by reference to the following descriptions:

1. John Stanton Stamp & Brand Cutter Cincinnati, within a circle of diamond shaped dots.
2. John Stanton Die Sinker Cincinnati, within a circle of diamond shaped dots.
3. Murdock & Spencer 139 5 St. Cin. O., within a circle of commas.
4. Good for (5-10-25-50 cents or ONE DOLLAR) Koehler.
5. Liberty head right; 13 stars above; LUTZ and 1863 below.
6. Eagle flying left; 12 stars above; 1863 below.
7. Mug in open wreath; star above.
8. Griffin flying left; 13 stars above; 1863 below.

STUART MOSHER TO MOVE TO McALLEN, TEXAS

Photograph by R. I. Nesmith

At the August meeting of the New York Numismatic Club the members presented Stuart Mosher, Editor of The Numismatist, with a handsome engraved wrist-watch as a departing gift on his move from New York City to McAllen, Texas. Mr. Mosher leaves New York about the middle of September and thereafter will devote his entire time to editing The Numismatist.

At the same meeting, F. C. C. Boyd announced his resignation as secretary-treasurer of the Club, an office he has held for thirty-one years. The departure of Mr. Mosher and the resignation of Mr. Boyd were received with regret and members expressed themselves accordingly.

BELIEVES SPECIAL ISSUES WOULD HELP AVOID INFLATION

In a recent discussion with one of the most fertile minds in this office, a most interesting subject came up. This man is, by birth and education, an Austrian and an excellent statistician, and has lived in a land where the coinage has been colorful and interesting.

One day after hearing his glowing tales of beautiful commemoratives and proofs being issued for the benefit of collectors, and the unfavorable comparisons with our unimaginative coinage and corrupted system of commemoratives, I gave him a Peace dollar, a coin he had never before seen. A pencil came out and I was soon presented with a partial solution to the threat of inflation which, if not entirely practical, might temporarily elevate the morale and imaginations of all those who love coins. His plan: Reverse 1933's anti-hoarding measures. Issue several issues of five and ten dollar coins or silver slugs. Make them varied and interesting to encourage collecting.

The salting away of 100 million large coins in shoe boxes and bureau drawers would take the better part of a billion dollars out of circulation and that would reduce the total money supply by more than three per cent, provided the paper money should be retired in the same amount.

To those who point out that the silver stockpile is only about 235 million badly-needed ounces, I point out the interesting possibilities of the lump of 20 billion in gold that we are hiding. Remember that there are still hundreds of thousands of old ladies and other non-collectors who are guarding their "rare" Columbian half-dollars with their lives. With present day purchasing power it is probable that coinage alone could drain off a sizable chunk of the inflated money supply.

Since I am engaged in research in my business, I conducted a small scale test last month in the following manner. I drew two hundred silver dollars, and after extracting an amazing 1897 S that had an almost perfect proof surface, spent them one by one all over New York City or gave them to fellow workers to spend. The results were amazing. Waiters in three cases expressed a desire to keep the coins themselves. One place I left them fighting over the dollar. One cashier to whom I had given two on different days asked for another and said that she had started to "collect" them. A clerk in the ten cent store immediately rang her bell and called the other girls to gaze upon nothing more than one old beaten-up Morgan dollar. "Oh, boy, a big one!" or "Here's my new lucky piece!" and it still goes on every time I pass one in the silver-starved East. Imagine what the demand would be for a double-dollar, or revival of the eagle and his double and half-brothers. Or how about some issues of true commemoratives for general circulation? A good Austrian idea I think.

Sincerely yours,

—KIRKHAM CORNWELL,
120 E. 73rd, N. Y. 21

IN MEMORIAM

ROSCOE F. BALLARD

The members of the Philadelphia Coin Club announce with a deep feeling of regret the passing of Roscoe F. Ballard of Chester, Pa.

He was born April 16, 1891 and died at the Veterans' Hospital, Castle Point, N. Y., on June 13, 1946.

He was graduated as a Mechanical Engineer from the University of Wisconsin in the class of 1913. He followed his profession before and after the First World War. During this conflict he served in the armed forces of the United States.

He joined our club in its early years and was a member of The American Numismatic Association No. 7338.

Mr. Ballard was interested in promoting Numismatics and keeping it active during World War No. 2, in spite of his illness. He began and edited thru-out the war years, "The News Letter," which told about the club's activities and was sent to all members in the armed forces and to those who were ill.

He specialized in collecting large copper U. S. Cents and possessed a very fine collection.

His wise counsel and advice was appreciated by all who associated with him.

THE SOVEREIGNS OF TURKEY

By Marion E. Harrison, II

The Ottoman Empire as such was founded by Othman when he proclaimed himself sultan (1300) following the death of the Seljuk Sultan of Iconium. Since that time the people of the Turkish lands have been called Ottoman Turks, and the Ottoman Empire has had quite a history.

Othman was succeeded by a line of considerably ambitious sovereigns, ending with Mohammed VI in 1922. I am beginning the Dated List with Mahommed II (1451-1481) and the fall of the Byzantine Empire (1453, see March issue). Turkish coins are extremely scarce prior to that date. Constantinople became the seat of the government, the Ottoman Porte.

The Empire started to increase quite rapidly, Mahommed II adding Bosnia, Servia, Albania, and Greece, and also threatening Italy. Under Selim I (1512-1520) Egypt and Syria were conquered. It was during the reign of Soliman II the Magnificent (1520-1566) that the Empire reached its peak. He subdued countries in all directions, and was repelled at the gates of Vienna (1529) by the forces of the Holy Roman Emperor, Charles V. The decline of the Ottoman Empire can be said to begin at that date. In 1571 under Selim II (1566-1574) the Empire's naval forces suffered their first great defeat at the hands of the Venetia and Spanish fleets, and not long after (1664) their armies were defeated at the Battle of St. Gothard.

The Turks again attacked Vienna (1683) under Mahommed IV (1648-1687) but were driven back. A series of defeats followed, with a few small victories here and there. During the late eighteenth century Turkey was in almost constant opposition to Russia, and since that time the two nations have been quite unfriendly toward each other. At the Peace of Kutchuk-Kainargi (1774) the Sultan was forced to acknowledge that supremacy by losing much territory located in present-day Russia.

The Ottoman forces were opposed to Napoleon Bonaparte I as a consequence of his Egyptian campaign, but that never amounted to much in comparison with their continuous Russian opposition. The Empire ceded the mouth of the Danube to Russia in 1817 and the Greek revolution for independence commenced in 1821. Russia took avail of the opportunity and seized Adrianople; the Ottoman fleet was destroyed (1827) by a combined English-French-Russian force; Turkey gave Greece her independence (1827); the Egyptian pasha revolted (1831-1833, 1840) and although he gained no absolute independence, he neared his mark and definitely loosened the Empire. In general, the early nineteenth century went entirely the wrong way for Turkey.

Turkey had the support of England and France in the Crimean War (1853-1856) and therefore fared quite well. A second war with Russia broke out in 1876 and resulted in a Russian victory with Roumania going independent (1877).

Internal troubles seem to have taken over where external ones left off. When a constitution was granted in 1876 by Amurath V, it was soon revoked by Abdul Hamid II, who reigned as an autocrat until 1908. He was forced to partially restore justice in 1908, and to abdicate in 1909 as a result of the military revolution.

His brother, Mohammed V (1909-1918), followed him to the throne. The Empire just about ceased to exist under him due to the Balkan Wars (1912-1913) and World War I. Mohammed VI succeeded him in 1918 and the Ottoman Empire came to a close in 1923, at which time Mustapha Kemal Pasha was made President of the Republic of Turkey. He assumed the title of Ataturk ("Great Turk") and died in office in 1938 after a fairly successful rule as a benevolent dictator. General Ismet Inonu succeeded him and is still President.

Turkey managed to remain neutral during the late War, and her influence is quite small in comparison to the old Ottoman Empire and to her northern neighbour. Practically all the states surrounding Turkey are now independent of her yoke. Turkish coinage is not common in this country considering her size, however, Turkish-issued pieces are not scarce.

MOORES WED FIFTY YEARS AGO

On August 19, Mr. and Mrs. Waldo C. Moore of Lewisburg, Ohio, celebrated their 50th Anniversary. Mr. Moore is an oldtime member of the A. N. A., joining in 1904. He is one of our few Honorary Life Members, and holds the original membership number 637.

For years he was (and still is) one of the most valued contributors to THE NUMISMATIST. He is particularly interested in numismatic items connected with Ohio and in Lincolniana. Of the latter he has one of the finest known collections.

The officers and members of the American Numismatic Association congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Moore on this occasion and look forward to helping him celebrate many additional anniversaries.

NUMISMATIC PUBLICATIONS

REVIEWED BY H. W. HOLZER

NEDERLANDSCHE MUNTEN VAN 1795-1945. (Dutch Coins from 1795-1945). By Jacques Schulman. Amsterdam 1945, with a supplementary sheet of March, 1946. 158 pages, numerous illustrations, linen-bound. $7.50. Hans M. F. Schulman, 545 Fifth Avenue, New York City, agent.

About the only major criticism one could level against this reference work is that it is written in the Dutch language, which is not generally understood outside the Netherlands. We can't help but feel that in view of the Hollanders' widespread knowledge of English, that language should have been used. As it is, though, no one will find it too difficult to use this book, which contains every coin issued since the Batavian Republic. Giving full mint records, i. e. number of pieces struck, and all the little details of each coin that make this a scientifically correct book, it is a sample of what a good corpus should be. The illustrations, while far from extraordinary, are serviceable, and the printing remarkably well done. Even though so many types are illustrated, they are fully described in addition—something every scholar considers a matter of fact, but which some of our friends overlook occasionally.

THE NUMISMATIC CHRONICLE AND JOURNAL OF THE ROYAL NUMISMATIC SOCIETY. 1945. Parts I-II. London, 1945. Sixth Series, vol. V, Nos. XVII-XVIII. Edited by John Allan, Harold Mattingly, and E. S. G. Robinson.

G. Wuthrich describes a number of Celtic coins of Switzerland, with the intent of proving that the Swiss are essentially Celts, even today. His numismatic evidence is well presented, and we feel there is little doubt about the kinship of some Swiss "barbarous" types with contemporary Celtic coins of the Channel area; but where Mr. Wuthrich goes off on a "Blood is thicker than water" tangent, we cannot quite follow, and much as we admire his enthusiasm, we are sure it has nothing to do with science.

"Notes on Some Byzantine Coins," by Hugh Goodacre, well-known specialist, "Hermes-Mercury, Dynasas, and Emperors," by Jacqueline Chittenden, and Mr. Sutherland's "The Gold and Silver Coinage of Spain under Augustus," follow. The latter is a valiant attempt to attribute some of Augustus' "western" coins to definite Spanish mints.

While perhaps a bit hard to understand for beginners, we feel that the world's leading scientific numismatic journal should be studied by every person taking his numismatics seriously.

AUREI UND SOLIDI VORKOMMEN AN DER SUEDEKÜSTE DER OSTSEE. (Aurei and Solidi Hoards from the south shores of the Baltic). By Werner Knapke, Helsinki. In Acta Archaeologica, vol. XII, fasc. 3, Copenhagen 1941. Separate. H. M. F. Schulman, 545 Fifth Avenue, U. S. agent. $5.00, stitched.

In the meticulous, perhaps a bit too meticulous, manner of the German scientist, Dr. Knapke presents the results of years of diligent studies of Roman gold hoards in the countries adjacent to the Baltic. He has set himself the tasks of examining the hoards, comparing them, listing them, and finally trying to probe into the possible route these Roman coins took, and the people using them.

In 118 pages, accompanied by 15 superb tables, but not a single illustration—there is no need for any—Dr. Knapke comes to the conclusion that no definite, single reason can be given for the occurrence of Roman gold around the Baltic, but that various causes have brought it there. This is an important, skillfully handled scientific contribution to archeology and numismatics, and should be read by any serious student of this difficult era.

AUREI UND SOLIDI VORKOMMEN AM MARE BALTICUM. (Aurei and Solidi Hoards of the Baltic). By Werner Knapke, Helsinki. In Acta Archaeologica, vol. XIV, fasc. 1-3, Copenhagen 1943. $4.00, stitched.

This is the treatment of the western shores of the Baltic, and continues in admirable fashion the work begun in the separate mentioned before.

CURIOSITIES OF FRENCH HERALDRY

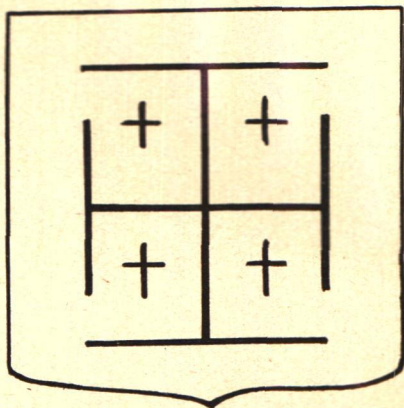

By DUDLEY BUTLER

It is unnecessary to say that French Heraldry is a very big subject and that many volumes have been written about it, and that a short article could only touch on a few high points. I shall try to show some of the most outstanding principles in which it differs from the English. Many of the French coats of arms are "marshalled," that is to say, arranged on a shield in a way that could not be described in English heraldic terms. Moreover, while the French laid down certain definite rules regarding both "tinctures" that is to say colours, and marshalling, they do not hesitate to break them as I shall try to show.

Practically all of the statements and all of the illustrations are taken from the "Grand Armorial de France" by Henri Jovgla de Morenas, published in Paris in 1934. Morenas states very positively that heraldry was invented in France in the eleventh century. He goes on to say that certain writers claim that Germany was the birthplace of this science, but this claim he rejects absolutely. He goes on to say that the study of the science of heraldry from 1200 to 1500 A. D. was considered by the nobility to be the most important science of all and that they taught their children the laws of heraldry were more important to know than reading or writing; at least heraldry came first.

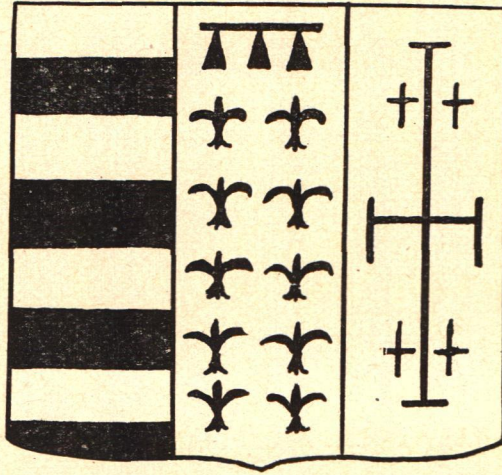

Inasmuch as practically all heraldic terms are of French origin it would seem as if there was a great deal of truth in Morenas' claim.

By an edict of Philip III in 1283, none but the nobility was allowed to bear arms which law was more or less obeyed for about a hundred years, when it was abolished.

In Morenas' book, Volume I, under the heading "Des Principales Regles de Blason," he states, and I quote, "On ne peut jamais dans le blason mettre métal, ni couleur sur couleur." One is never allowed to blason metal upon metal or color upon color, and yet four pages later he gives a description and illustration of the arms of the King of Jerusalem, as follows: "d'Argent à une crois potencée d'or cantonnée de quatre Croisettes du mesme."

And in the following volumes II & III of his work, he gives many illustrations showing where this rule has been broken both as to placing metal upon metal and color upon color.

In English heraldic law you may not place three different coats of arms side by side on the same shield, but here is an illustration from Morenas together with his heraldic description of it, "Tiercé en pal, au 1 d'argent fascé de gueules à 8 pieces, au 2 d'azur semé de fleurdelys d'or au lambel de queules en chef, au 3 d'argt a la croix potencée d'or cantonnée de 4 croisettes du mesme."

Two more examples of French marshalling are shown in figures A & B which could not be described by the English system.

Another important point in which the English and French Heralds differ is in marshalling. The latter do not impale the arms of husband and wife but place them accolé, on two separate shields. The issue impale their parents' arms when, under similar circumstances, in England they would be entitled to quarter them.

In German, Italian, and Spanish Armory, also, colour frequently appears upon colour, as in the arms of the Spanish Inquisition, which were "Sable, a cross vert." Some of the charges in Continental Armory, particularly that of Spain, appear most grotesque to English heralds. Animals, for instance, are represented as talking to each other and many shields of arms seem as if they were designed to illustrate the Fables of Æsop.

Napoleon is said to have remarked, on seeing for the first time the various quarterings to which his wife was entitled, and which comprised a goodly assortment of zoological curiosities; "Parbleu! Il y a beaucoup d'animaux dans cette famille-la."

The arms of most of the great officers of state were, under the Ancien Regime of France, supported by devices emblematic of their office. Thus, the Admiral of France had two anchors, the Vice-Admiral, one. The Grand Louvetier (wolf hunter) had wolves heads and so forth.

As I said at the beginning of this little article, French heraldry is a big subject and I have only tried to show a few of the highlights.

BRIEF REPORT ON THE 1946 A. N. A. CONVENTION

Several members just returned from the Convention held at Davenport, Iowa, August 17 to 21, report that it was a highly successful affair. The unopposed candidates were all re-elected to office. The Board of Governors for the coming year consists of: Loyd B. Gettys; J. Hewitt Judd; Col. Joseph Moss; M. Vernon Sheldon; and R. S. Yeoman.

The proposed new by-laws, as printed in the July issue, were adopted with minor changes.

Our Treasurer, George H. Blake, was elected an Honorary Life Member.

A detailed report of the Convention will appear in an early issue of THE NUMISMATIST.

MISCELLANEOUS LIBRARY NOTES

By TED R. HAMMER, A. N. A. Librarian

P. O. Box 225, Marinette, Wisc.

M. Frankenhuis of Holland has contributed a catalogue of Medals, Medalets and Plaques Relative to the World War. The work is filled with good illustrations and is in English. The book is F-4 in the library. . . . We are indebted to Leonard Babin, 356 Hudson avenue, Rochester, N. Y., for a copy of the booklet, Presidential Candidates, 1789-1944. It lists not only the presidents, but their opponents and political parties. The pamphlet contains 10 pages. The library number is B-7.

We have received from R. Green, the Chicago dealer, a gratis copy of his reprint of "Confederate and Southern States Currency," a very well executed reprint and valuable work for collectors of Confederate notes.

A member sent us several Numismatic Review articles and we do not have the donor's name and address. We wish to acknowledge them on the bookplates and will appreciate a card.

Another library addition is "The Index Plan for Pricing the Dollar," by James Alfred Ross, 1629 Coliseum Street, New Orleans, La., a member of the ANA. Even those who may disagree with the author may find this an interesting work. The library number is R-2. . . . Sam Kabealo of Columbus, Ohio, sent a copy of the Ohio Archaeological and Historical Quarterly of July, 1915, containing the article on the history of banking and currency in Ohio before the Civil war. The library number is O-3.

Queries from members and non-members—and from libraries—indicate many ex-servicemen are showing an interest in coins which they brought home from abroad. Some of these men are members of the ANA and many are prospective members. . . . At coin meetings, we seldom meet many who specialize in paper money or colonials, in comparison with men and women with other specialties in American coinage. Yet, the Wayte Raymond Standard Paper Money Catalogue led in circulation during the 1945-1946 fiscal year. Crosby's work, Early Coins of America, often the No. 1 favorite, was out more often than ever before, probably, but ran behind the paper money book. . . . There have been no requests yet from clubs desiring the collection of books which may be kept for a month (see July Numismatist). We were happy over this, however, this summer, because the books were loaned to individuals. . . . At this writing—August 10—there are nearly 260 works out on loan.

We may have stated this before, but want you to know that: In event you write us about something requiring a little research, we may have to put it off an evening or two or even until the following week end. For us, time never speeds along so rapidly as when we get to delving into the records in search of an answer. And too often we do not find it. With so many books out nowadays, we are thinking of having a few standard works reserved and retained in the office. Actually, we even have our own American Journal of Numismatics Index, old Scott Catalogues, current Wayte Raymond catalogues and one or two others out right now to prevent back orders.

Let us know any time we can serve you. If you do not see what you want in the library catalogue, write.

I. N. A. CONVENTION HIGHLIGHTS

The Iowa Numismatic Association held its 15th Annual Convention in Des Moines, May 24 to 26. The attendance was 200 though thousands of local residents viewed the exhibits.

Left to right: M. A. Radke, Dr. J. Hewitt Judd, Abner Kreisberg, Bob Calman, and David Dilley.

Among the unusual pieces on display were the only two existing pattern $10 gold pieces of 1874. Dr. J. Hewitt Judd of Omaha, Nebraska is the owner of one and Abner Kreisberg of New York the other. In the above picture, Dr. Judd is explaining the coin which he is holding.

One of the exceedingly rare 1913 Liberty head nickels was exhibited by J. V. McDermott of So. Milwaukee. The cases of handsome medals exhibited by Burton H. Saxton of Cedar Rapids caused much admiration by the general public. One of the newer medals was the Iwo Jima classical flag raising scene. Elmer Laurent of Clinton, Ia. exhibited three cases of I. N. A. historical items of different kinds. Much interest was shown in the case of rare gold coins exhibited by the Numismatic Gallery of New York.

Charles Altman, president of the host Club, tried to be everywhere at once and even conducted a tour through the exhibits for some of the visitors.

T. J. Barnes, of Norwalk, Iowa, had four miniature cases on exhibit which proved to be cleverly made trays from his coin cabinet. An illustrated lecture was given by Dr. Judd and M. Vernon Sheldon. These two men had a remarkable set of slides of pattern coins and are writing a lecture for circulation among coin clubs.

At the Saturday evening banquet there were twenty people at the speakers table, but only two of them did any talking. Loyd Gettys of Davenport acted as toastmaster. Lewis M. Reagan, General Secretary of the A. N. A. gave the main speech, being "Numismatics as an Art." He also told us how Iowa ranks in numismatics of the world.

Lewis Ferguson had a nice job at the banquet, that of giving away twenty door prizes.

Both sessions of the coin auction were well attended.

Altogether it was a fine convention, it was most unfortunate that the stoppage of train service kept away many collectors and dealers who had planned to attend.

IMPORTANT CORRECTION

Henry Schumacher, president of the Boston Numismatic Society, wants it known that without the help of Malcolm O. E. Chell-Frost, the Boston Society could never have won three consecutive second place and first place National Coin Week Awards. Mr. Chell-Frost's name was unfortunately omitted in the original report.

NOTES AND QUERIES

Thick and Thin Coppers of 1795

Dear Editor:

Can you tell me why it is that the copper cents and half cents of 1795 are found on both thick and thin planchets and vary so greatly in weight?

—J. S., New York City

Answer: One reason was probably the poor condition and quality of the Mint machinery and rolling technique. Another was the supply of copper, leading to the April 23, 1795 purchase from Talbot, Allum & Lee of 1076 pounds of copper, including many of their tokens which were cut to half cent size and restruck as half cents without further preparation. In the case of cents, the fact that some were struck in collars and some without collars produced variation in the thickness of the finished product. Then too, being of base metal, the copper coins were not in early years, very carefully controlled for weight.

Mrs. Luce Demands Fair Play

Dear Mr. Mosher:

Like so many numismatists, I have always believed that the American philatelist had more advantages than the American numismatist. Commemorative stamps are issued frequently; commemorative coins are no longer minted, by an act of Congress. Stamps are sold reasonably at many embassies, legations, and other foreign headquarters; I know of none selling their native coins. Stamp collectors are permitted to buy stamps in large blocks, and to receive special envelopes "first day of issue" from the Post Office Department. Nevertheless, it seems that some philatelic groups, and undoubtedly various individuals, are protesting because there is such a thing as proof coins (although the Mint does not now issue them) and evidently no "proof stamps."

Although I would not disagree with the proposed resolution, I rather wonder at Mrs. Luce's language (Congressional Record, Vol. 92, No. 135, Page A4260) when she states on July 11, 1946, that "the several million citizens of this Nation who collect postage and revenue stamps . . . feel that they do not have equal protection under present laws with their fellow collectors of coins and medals."

She subsequently announces her introduction of a resolution "to bring the issuance of plate and die proofs of governmental printings into conformance with the issuance of proof coins and medals, and in conformance with the best international practice governing such collectors' items."

Since it is supposedly costing the taxpayers' no additional money, and since the Essay Proof Society may be correct in their desire for this resolution, I certainly do not object. However, it seems to me that in this time of general commotion and unrest throughout the Nation and the world, that if Members of the House are going to take time to introduce and probably act upon resolutions designed to do nothing but give "equal protection" to the philatelists of America, then I see no reason why legislation cannot be proposed to cure a few things on the numismatic side of the picture, for instance, commemorative coins.

Perhaps the numismatists residing within the 4th District of Connecticut will write Mrs. Luce concerning numismatic legislation, and maybe she would be accommodating enough to take action thereon in the interests of fairness and "equal protection" for the numismatist.

Very sincerely,

Variety of Bouquet Sou

Dear Sir:

Recently I examined a number of Bouquet tokens, Bretons number 715, Courteau's number 15. Most of them were of the common variety called the closed crown on the reverse of which the tips of the maple leaves touch at the top. There were also a small number of the open crown variety on which the tips of the maple leaves do not touch. Dr. Courteau makes no mention of this variety and it is, I understand, considered rare. From examining the specimens, I noticed the following: The reverse with the open crown is combined with an obverse on which the T and U of AGRICULTURE are joined at the top by a heavy die crack.

The reverse with the closed crown is joined with an obverse on which the T and U are separate. Is this always the case? I had concluded in the absence of any mention by Dr. Courteau of this variety that it was simply the result of a dirty die. On examination of the coins, I now doubt this, as the arrangement of the leaves at the top appears to be slightly different. Are the obverses of these coins from the same die or is one a close copy of the other? Is the joining of the T and U the result of a die crack or miscutting?

Very truly yours,

L. R. WILSON

Answer: This discovery should interest the old-time collectors who years ago specialized in "bouquet sous." In those days a rare variety would fetch a handsome price. Today, for some strange reason, such pieces seldom appear in auction sales, and when they do, bring but a fraction of the old prices.

Perhaps one of our readers can answer Mr. Wilson's question. We can't.—Editor.

New York Concern to Move

Elsewhere in this issue is the announcement of the change of address of the New Netherlands Coin Company. About the 1st of September they will take over the Coin Department of the Scott Stamp & Coin Co., Inc., 1 West 47th Street, New York City. Charles M. Wormser will take personal charge of the coin business, which for the last 80 odd years has been a by-word among collectors. We wish Charles and his staff the best of luck which we feel sure they will continue to deserve.

Two Issues of Commemorative Half Dollars Authorized by U. S.

On August 7, President Truman signed bills providing for commemorative coins for Iowa's entry into the Union and honoring Booker T. Washington. For the Iowa Centennial, 100,000 half dollars were authorized and for the late Booker T. Washington, Negro leader and educator, an issue of 5,000,000 was authorized.

Details in regard to the distribution of these coins will be published in The Numismatist at the earliest possible date. As both issues are large ones it is hardly possible that collectors will have any difficulty in obtaining them.

The Grant With Faked Star

Three readers have asked for information on how to detect a faked star on the Grant commemorative half dollar. As far as we know, the only positive identification is an examination of the star itself, which straddles the N in GRANT. Of the several hundreds we have examined, the star is always the same. The edges of the indentation are rounded, the field uneven and always there is a faint line in the upper half of the field pointing to one o'clock. The faked stars are usually flat and when compared to the genuine are readily recognized as imitations.

Nearly all of the plain Grants have a re-engraved G in GRANT. Of twenty plain specimens recently examined, only one lacked traces of a re-engraved G.

It takes a strong glass to study the details of the star, plus a knowledge of what to expect in a genuine star, and what to suspect in a fake star. The plain Grant half-dollar catalogues at $3, the Grant with star at $65, and this knowledge is at least worth $62.

During 1945 the U. S. Mint re-deemed four copper half cents, last coined in 1857.

According to the 1945 U. S. Mint Report, minor coins in circulation total $301,550,395.02. This includes all outstanding issues from 1793 to date.

THE EDITOR'S CORNER

Commemoratives Long Popular

In a statement recently issued to the press, Mr. Truman said he agreed with the Treasury that so many designs on American coins resulting from minting commemorative pieces tends: "To create confusion, to increase the possibility of counterfeiting, to encourage traffic in commemorative coins for private profit, and, in general, to detract from the fundamental purpose for which money is issued, namely, to provide a medium of exchange."

Few of us will agree with this opinion.

That they increase the possibility of counterfeiting seems rather unlikely although there is an instance on record where a clever dental mechanic counterfeited a few of the rarer pieces in the United States series.

That "they create confusion," is rather a broad statement and we have no idea what is meant. It could possibly refer to political confusion in Washington.

It is true enough that commemorative coins have been used for "private profit" but these rare exceptions are hardly sufficient to cause the negative opinions entertained by our President. Such abuses that have occurred could easily have been prevented if the officials of the United States Mint had taken the slightest interest in the distribution of commemoratives.

That "the fundamental purpose of money is to provide a medium of exchange" cannot be denied. It is only when a nation acquires culture, pride in its inheritance, and an interest in its future that it wants its coinage to be artistic, historical, and commemorative, in addition to "providing a medium of exchange."

Rare Issues of Australia

Readers having information on rare and unpublished Australian coins and tokens are requested to write J. Hunt Deacon, National Gallery, Adelaide, South Australia. Information is also required concerning the location and description of South Australian "ingots," Assay Office pieces, and Holey dollars.

Twenty Years Without A Miss

Regular attendance at 240 consecutive meetings in twenty years is the record completed this June by Fred T. Joers, Charter Member of the Western Reserve Numismatic Club. Mr. Joers, who specializes in United States fractional currency, holds number 1882 in the American Numismatic Association.

If any reader knows of a better attendance record on the part of any A. N. A. member, we should like to hear of it.

LEPER TOKENS

I left the old home
Filled with the burning ambition
To get somewhere,
To be something.
I haunted the columned halls
Of the University
And hung framed degrees,
Parchment after parchment
On the walls of my room
But where did I go?

To a little seagirt isle
Where they pumped
Ounces upon ounces
Of choolumugra oil
Into my veins.
What was I?

Jingling in my pockets
The dull nickel coins,
The precious tokens
Of the unclean;
I shuffle along
The rock strewn beach
Something horrible,
Something to be shunned
And with a sickening
Loneliness in my heart.

I fling
A full handful
Of the gray disks
Far out into
The rippling waves;
A thanks offering,
A sacrifice
To Kwan Yin
The all-merciful!

Overdates Not Always Alike

Dear Mr. Mosher:

In accordance with the conversation I had with you concerning the explanation for the 1942 over '41 dime, I have examined in detail an uncirculated specimen of this coin and find that it exhibits the characteristics you said it would. That is: it shows double lines in many places; beneath the chin of Liberty, around the letters of "Liberty," and the nose and mouth of Liberty.

Following this theory out, I examined a very fine specimen of a 1917 over '18 D nickel and found the same characteristics obtaining to an even greater degree. In this coin the double lines are much more easily discernible and quite pronounced. In examining an uncirculated specimen of 1918 over '17 quarter, however, I did not find the same characteristics as in the aforementioned coins and from the appearance of the shaft of the 7, I would venture the opinion that this overdate was not caused in the same manner, but that I strongly suspect the shaft of the 7 to be a die crack, as it is extremely ill defined.

Going back in chronological order, the next U. S. overdate is the 1909 over '08 double eagle. I have examined an uncirculated specimen of this also and have come definitely to the conclusion that in this case the overdate is one of our old friends, a re-engraved date.

Going back still further, I have looked at the 1887 over '86, 3c Nickel, and find this also to be a re-engraved date beyond a shadow of a doubt.

Still going back in chronological order is the 1853 over '52 quarter and this also beyond question is a re-engraved date.

The assumption, therefore, is that all so-called overdates prior to 1918 over '17 are re-engraved dates, but that from this date on they are those of the double struck hub variety as you claim.

I have examined all of the overdates mentioned with the utmost care and if my conclusions should vary with those formed by other collectors I should be glad to learn where we differ.

Yours sincerely,

—JOSEPH H. SPRAY,

159 Fairview Avenue,
Rutherford, N. J.

Objects to Speculating

Dear Mr. Mosher:

Judging from current advertising, it appears that we have more speculators than collectors. In my opinion, the person who accumulates rolls of current coins in hopes of making a profit is in the same class as the horse player, and is no more entitled to call himself a coin collector.

I believe the Association should do something about this before irreparable damage is done to our hobby.

—THOMAS J. TOOLIN,
New York City.

Note: Most all collecting hobbies invite speculation and there is nothing that can be done about it. While it is not numismatics it is a harmless form of speculation, and in a small way helps to keep down inflation. Enormous quantities of recently issued coins are being held by accumulators, and, providing they take good care of them, the next several generations of collectors will be able to buy such coins at a very small premium.

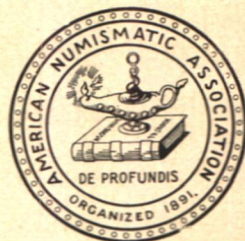

As an example, I know of a war plant worker who is holding over $3,000 worth of current coins from cents to half dollars. That's about all the money he has ever saved, and whatever might be thought of him, he cannot altogether be condemned. He will probably make 5 or 10 per cent on his savings which is more than he would ever get from a savings bank. The U. S. Government makes more on coins than it does on bonds, so you can't say his hoarding is detrimental to the interests of the country.

We can think of better ways of investing money, but must admit that there are worse ways of spending it.
—Editor.

Tune and Coin Collector

Phil Ingalls, a talented musician whose orchestra has been playing at the Warwick Hotel, New York, for the last three months, is an enthusiastic member of the A. N. A. and never misses an opportunity to promote his hobby. Recently interviewed by a feature writer for the "Metropolitan Host," Mr. Ingalls talked more about his coin collection than about his music. This is fine publicity for numismatics and we need more boosters like Phil Ingalls.

REPORTS OF CLUB MEETINGS

SECRETARIES PLEASE NOTE: Reports should be made promptly. Copy must be received by the 10th of the month to insure insertion in the following month's issue. As a usual thing a copy of the minutes is sent in, and almost invariably a number of items of local concern only must be cancelled. The justification for publishing these accounts lies in the numismatic information—and encouragement—to be derived by collectors generally, regardless of location. On this basis we feel it advisable to revise and condense, and, incidentally, the by-product of this course is conservation of valuable space.

ATLANTA COIN CLUB—The 332nd meeting was held Wednesday, Aug. 7, at the Henry Grady Hotel. There were 14 members and four visitors present. President T. H. Landgraf presided.

O. L. Nelson, chairman of the Program Committee read an interesting paper on Hard Times Tokens. The history and background leading to the issuance of these pieces and the derivation of their mottoes and designs were carved very fully. He exhibited a collection of 124 specimens, many rare and uncirculated.

Exhibits:

T. H. Landgraf: 15 commemorative Swiss 5 franc pieces; 15 German 5 mark pieces.

J. J. Gonzales: A collection of coins and medals from the Vatican.

G. M. Todd: A U. S. 2 cent piece with small motto; a type set of U. S. small cents; a type set of U. S. nickel coins.

—H. H. JOYNER, Secretary

ASHEVILLE COIN CLUB—A call meeting of the Asheville Coin Club was held on July 31st. President Lichtenfels donated several volumes to the club library and Curator Carpenter is getting our library into shape for the use of all members.

The ACC was given an honorable mention for its display in National Coin Week and the members at this meeting had under discussion plans for National Coin Week 1947 and how we can improve our exhibit and improve our drive at that time. A paper was read on the Roanoke Island half dollar.

We invite new members from the state of North Carolina to join us in these meetings.

—SIDNEY H. TEAR, Secretary

BIRMINGHAM COIN CLUB—The 18th monthly meeting held Tuesday July 16th at 8 P. M. in the Auditorium of The White Dairy Co., 621 So. 27th St., with 11 members and four visitors present.

J. C. Faulkner donated an 1883 nickel for attendance prize and same was won by Mrs. Morris.

Mr. Mergenthaler gave a talk on silver dollars, covering every type issued and giving some valuable information on the earliest types, also the pattern dollars issued in 1836.

S. G. Stubbins a visitor gave a short talk on currency issued by the Japanese Government for a planned invasion of Hawaii and the mainland of the United States. These notes were never put in circulation and are very rare. Mr. Stubbins exhibited two sets of these notes in denominations, fifty-cents to one hundred dollars. Other displays were:

Mr. Rosene: A complete set 3c pieces both silver and nickel.

Mr. Morris: Several of the earliest dates of silver dollars.

Mr. Mergenthaler: Almost complete set of Peace Dollars.

Mr. Booth: Complete set of commemorative half dollars, also an 1895-O quarter.

—O. B. HUDSON, Secretary

BROOKLYN COIN CLUB—The 157th regular meeting was held on July 3rd, at the St. George Hotel, Brooklyn, N. Y. with President Heft in the chair. There were sixteen members and six guests present. The topics for the evening were: Medals of Brooklyn, Medals of Numismatic Clubs, Coins of Portugal and her colonies and U. S. Patterns.

The following members and guests made exhibits:

Mr. Blake: 33 medals in various metals issued by Numismatic Clubs in the U. S. including 18 of the Buffalo Numismatic Association.

Mr. Brookes: Two reconstructed sheets of 1917 Legal $1. notes with reversed signatures, and one altered 1856 flying eagle cent.

Mrs. Brookes: Numerous Coin Club medals and recent coins of Denmark.

Mr. Coffin: First medal of the Iowa Coin Club state meeting 1938, Philadelphia and New York A. N. A. Convention medals.

Mr. Hollander: Nazi Grand Cross; 1836 silver dollar, Gobrecht on base found in circulation.

Mr. Knott: Aureus of Julius Caesar.

Mr. Kortjohn: New issues of Morocco, Cyprus, France and a two franc Allied Invasion Coin for France.

Mr. Kraus: 1 chuckrum head of the Marahaja 1938; Coins of Portugal and colonies.

Mr. Rodgason: Five dollar silver Certificate "Fred. Vinson."

Mr. Ryan: Rare exhibit of Original Copy of song "How Are You Green-backs" by Dan Bryant of Bryant's Minstrels dated 1861 showing U. S. ten dollar on cover.

Mr. Schmall: Medals, badges and souvenirs pertaining to the City of Brooklyn; coins of Brazil and Portugal.

Mr. Schwartz: A collection of tokens and medals issued by various Coin Clubs.

Mr. Silverman: Coins of Portugal and her colonies, and various Coin Club medals.

Mr. Susskind: Brooklyn Medals and Coins of Portugal and her colonies.

—JOHN J. HEGARTY, JR., Secretary

BRONX COIN CLUB—The 155th regular meeting was held at the Concourse Plaza Hotel on Wednesday, July 24th, vice president Engel presiding. Sixteen members and eight guests were present. Special welcome was extended to Herbert Erlanger, our sixth member to be discharged from service in the armed forces. A card was read from Mr. Steinberg from Venezuela.

A paper on the Legion of Honor of France was read by Joseph Wagner. This was quite detailed and showed that considerable work had been devoted to its preparation. Arthur Deas then gave an extemporaneous talk on the encased postage stamp used after the Civil War in the United States. He told about the history of these pieces and said that little information was available on the subject, nor was information on other numismatic subjects considered of no special importance at the time of issue. Both speakers were heartily applauded for their work.

The topics for the evening were trade dollars and U. S. gold dollars, coins of countries beginning with the letter B, except Belgium and Brazil, coins of Britain before 1666 and medals and decorations of Great Britain. Exhibits were as follows:

Mr. Arthur: An uncirculated 1942 over 1941 dime.

Mr. Bernstein: Gold dollars of 1854 and 1856S; Mexican gold 50 pesos of 1943 and 1944.

Mr. Blake: Seats of Kings Enred and Aethelred II. and silver pennies of Edward the Elder, Aethelstan, Edmund, and Eadred from AD 900 to 955.

Mr. Brown: Three pence paper and penny and halfpenny celluloid tokens of Civilian Internment Camp and Prisoners of War Camp; Two silver pennies of Aethelred II of Leicester and Exeter mints; pattern Bavarian two mark coin dated 1913.

Mr. Carpenter: British war medals, coronation medals and other medals; two Philippine puppet medals in copper showing Laurel's portrait.

Mr. Douglas: Counterfeit British halfpenny overstruck by counterfeit Irish halfpenny dies of George III.

Mrs. Douglas: Plaques of Theodore Roosevelt and Grant; silver medal of Washington cabinet of medals.

Mr. Engel: Complete set of commemorative gold coins; 1850 and 1854 gold dollars, centennial dollar, Lafayette dollar and 1935 Canadian dollar.

Mr. Erlanger: Collection of 200 minor coins of Bamberg.

Mr. Ginzburger: Types of silver dollars; date collection of half dollars from 1858 to 1915.

Mr. Girolamo: Coins of Bulgaria, Bolivia, Belgian Congo, British North Borneo, Barbados, Bahamas, British Guiana, British West Africa, British Honduras and Bohemia.

Mr. Kemm: English medal for the Exhibition of Industry of all nations in London in 1851, and for the birth in 1841 and the coronation in 1902 of Edward VII.

Mr. Kortjohn: Various Hungarian notes of 1852 signed by Kossuth; Ripley cartoon of one quadrillion pengo note; coins of Baden, Bavaria, Berne, Brabant, Brandenburg, Braunschweig, Bremen and Brunswick; six trade dollars of United States and Britain.

Mr. Kraus: 4 prager groschen of Bohemia 1278-1378; silver 50 ore of Sweden of 1945, ½ anna of India of 1946 in nickel; one chukram of Travancore in bronze dated 1938 with head of maharajah.

Mr. Ruditsky: 125 British medals and 18 British miniature medals; set of World War I Victory Medals of all countries except Brazil.

Mr. Silverman: Uncirculated set of U. S. commemorative gold dollars.

Mr. Stein: Stater of Sidon.

Mr. van der Meer: Curacao 2½ gulden of 1944; Worlds Fair medal of Amsterdam in 1883 made by Valentine & Co., New York.

Mr. Wagner: Eleven British decorations; two U. S. trade dollars.

It was announced by Mr. Deas that the Truman medal could be obtained from the mint for $1.50 and that newspapers had reported on the passage of bills for commemorative half dollars for Iowa and Booker T. Washington.

CALIFORNIA COIN CLUB—Twenty-six members and guests were present at the 221st regular meeting of the club held August 6. In addition to the usual routine business, secretary's minutes and treasurer's report, two new members were admitted, namely Anthony F. Kelly and Alex. Schvarz.

The matter of bringing the A. N. A. convention to California in 1949 again received attention, and it is expected that the various numismatic organizations of the state will join in the invitation.

The speaker of the evening, Michael P. Carey, one of the charter members of the club, then presented one of the most interesting papers in the history of the organization. His subject, "The Background of Roman Coins," encompassed Roman history from the legendary founding date of B. C. 753 through the many years of kingdom, republic and empire into the Byzantine period. The monetary system beginning with the twelve ounce pound of copper; the heavy aes grave, the denarius and the later gold, silver and copper coins, all received attention in a masterly presentation. Mr. Carey stressed the point that it is not only possible to collect the coins of most of the 67 regular emperors and members of their royal families, but that such a collection may be completed at relatively small cost. All in all, the address accomplished in the space of fifteen minutes, an epitome of the great Roman system of coinage, which Mr. Carey and many other collectors consider one of the most interesting phases of numismatics.

Paul Fouts gave talk on Roman and Greek coins and how coins relate to history.

Bert Wagner suggested we put more time and thought on relations of coins and history. He was made Chairman of Committee with this end in view. History of Peruvian gold is subject for next meeting. Montezuma's gold to be discussed by Mr. Bibler at next meeting.

—B. A. TALMADGE, Secretary

WASHINGTON NUMISMATIC SOCIETY—The regular meeting was held at the U. S. National Museum on Monday, August 5, Pres. Col. M. S. Newton called the meeting to order. There were four guests present.

Edward S. Weikert, Jr., who is on the legislative committee on coinage reported on the Booker T. Washington, Iowa and Will Rogers commemoratives: the latter is not as yet reported out of the committee, the contents of remarks and reports will be found on page 890 of the August issue of The Numismatist.

George E. Vanderwende who always keeps the society informed of news and general information of interest numismatically spoke on the new type Jefferson nickel, as he expressed it "Nickels go back to Nickel," he also spoke on commemorative halves that never got out of the committee. Mr. Vanderwende brought up the much discussed topic in regards to Penn. Life Insurance Co. who are celebrating their anniversary and who are collecting 1847 large cents and will they be released after the celebration?

Iron Money was the subject of the evening and the following members brought pieces and spoke on the subject previous to the announced speaker of the evening.

John Zug spoke on iron money of Germany during the war and also iron money or an object that represented money down through the ages.

Dr. Riley D. Moore spoke on Chinese iron money.

Col. Sigler spoke on iron ring money, iron spears, paddles (iron) and odd money that was the primitive medium of exchange.

Edward S. Conger who was the principal speaker of the evening brought out what iron meant as a medium of exchange.

The President asked each member to tell what he collected other than coins, or his other hobby, this was done to create an interest for the October meeting in which each one is expected to display and talk on his other hobby.

Many were either stamp or cover collectors, some collected everything in general, for instance F. E. Hodge who specializes in Chinese coins has many fine books especially on collecting.

Pres. Col. Newton is a cover collector and also possesses many souvenirs of his travels as a U. S. Marine.

The Sect. H. A. Rothwell who collects West Indies coins has many hobbies, one of which is anything pertaining to the old Whaling Days in New Bedford, Mass.

Col. Sigler collects many other things besides coins, one of them is a collection of Childrens books, he has also made a deep study and has written on Bung-Town Tokens.

Dr. Riley D. Moore collects many things other than Chinese coins, one of his other hobbies is Chinese books of which he can read and speak about in the Chinese language.

John Zug collects everything in general and can talk about everything as he is an all-around and interesting talker on any subject.

The members will have a chance to display their other hobbies in October.

—HARRY A. ROTHWELL, Sect.-Treas.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY COIN CLUB—The 145th regular meeting was held in the New Rochelle Y. M. C. A. on July 16, 1946 with fifteen members and guests present. President Weidhaas called the meeting to order at 9:00 P. M. Messrs. Harmon and Genzburger, our guests of the evening were cordially welcomed and Mr. Harmon, who had made regular application for membership, was later unanimously elected a member of the Club. Mr. Marsden, our National Coin Week Chairman presented the fifth prize award, a copy of the 1946 Standard Catalog, won for the Club by its participating members.

On the evening's subject of "U. S. Dimes" we were fortunate to have Mr. Dewey present a very well prepared paper on this coinage. This is one denomination that has been comparatively neglected and as very little coordinated reference material is available, Mr. Dewey's paper represented an important contribution which we hope he will see fit to submit to the Numismatist.

Exhibits were made as detailed below:

Mr. Dewey: Selection of coins of Spain and Portugal for the 15th, 16th, 17th and 18th centuries; type collection of U. S. dimes.

Mr. Lewis: Barber, Mercury and Roosevelt dimes; proof sets 1936-42.

WESTERN MARYLAND COIN CLUB—The July meeting was held at the Central Y. M. C. A. Wednesday, July 17th at 8:00 P. M. with president Charles presiding. Member Wilson suggested that the Club hold a Hobby and Coin show some time this fall and that we should consider the matter of permitting the purchase and sale of coins at this show. There was a lot of comments both for and against this proposal. No definite action was taken but at the suggestion of Member Hyde the matter was carried over for further consideration at our next meeting. Member Morris also proposed that our club should consider making the necessary change in our Constitution and By-Laws to permit lady members. Much discussion on this subject ensued but no definite action was taken.

Member Wilson gave us a talk about Fractional Currency and showed us a very interesting book on the subject by Heath which he recently secured. President Charles gave the members an interesting talk about silver, the present market price and the proposed price.

W. L. Wilson: A set of uncirculated Fractional Currency.

C. D. Morris: A set of Japanese paper money. John W. Fogle: Colonial coins.

—MARTIN L. JOHNSON, Secretary

ADVERTISERS PLEASE NOTE

All correspondence relating to advertising should be addressed to the Business Manager (see above). Make all remittances payable to the American Numismatic Association.

Advertising Contracts: These are available, covering periods of three, six and twelve consecutive months for display space as listed in the above Table of Rates, and are necessary if the schedule of reduced rates is to apply. If the advertiser prefers not to accept the Contract, such reduced rates will be granted only upon payment in advance for the period desired.

References: All advertisers who submit copy for the first time are definitely requested to furnish therewith banking or other satisfactory references.

Available Space Units: Practical considerations restrict the allocation of space units to those listed in the above table. Any amount of space is available IF these units or a combination of them are used. Unless contrary instructions are given, copy will be cut if found too full for the space designated; if no designation is made, it shall be understood the amount of space is left to the discretion of the Editor.

Classified Ads: The cost is computed at five cents per word each insertion: initials (two), numbers and abbreviations to count as words. Minimum charge, $1.00. Remittance must accompany copy. These will be set in 6 point Roman; no display type.

Deadline: Copy must be received by the 10th of the month to insure insertion in the following month's issue.

Miscellaneous: Please furnish copy separately from your letter of transmittal. Advertising copy included in the body of a letter usually has to be re-typed for the printer; this should not be required.

Advertising copy should be prepared with minute care. Carelessness invites error—something which both advertiser and publisher are anxious to avoid. Use only one side of the sheet.

In the absence of an Advertising Contract, when payment in advance for any number of consecutive months has been made, if change of copy has not been received by the 10th of the month for the next issue, the latest preceding advertisement will be run.

Advertisers may use a trade name, but, except in the case of an incorporated concern, the name of the proprietor or of some other responsible person connected with the firm must also appear in the advertisement.

The right to edit copy, to require payment in advance, and to decline any advertisement is specifically reserved. Superlatives prohibited.

"EXCEEDED MY MOST OPTIMISTIC HOPES"

New York, N. Y.

July 17, 1946.

Mr. B. Max Mehl,
Mehl Bldg.,
Fort Worth, Texas.

Dear Mr. Mehl:

With the highly successful conclusion of your auction of the choice coin collection, which my father assembled during his life time, all the members of the family join me in expressing our thanks and appreciation.

You certainly did a most patient, accurate and scholarly job in gathering together from many sources, all historical data available, in addition to drawing from your own knowledge and experience of many years. The combination of all this research work in such a marvelous printing job produced a catalogue which was a masterpiece. It is a volume of great tribute to my father. Needless to add, the final results exceeded my most optimistic hopes. Your business-like methods and prompt settlement closed a chapter of all-round friendly and cordial business dealings.

I'm only sorry that on account of the long distance between New York and Fort Worth I did not have the pleasure of as many personal chats with you as I would have liked. However this distance was not the slightest handicap to the transaction of complete and satisfactory business. More power to you!

Sincerely and cordially yours,

FOREIGN COIN ALBUM

It is now being made. Yes, it's true, an album that will hold foreign coins is now a reality—and what an album! It has handsome black pages that will show off your coins to best advantage—sliding celluloid to protect your coins while permitting easy removal of any coin from the page—silver titles—size 8" x 10½" with holes punched to fit any standard 8" x 10½" 3-ring binder—and well balanced layouts. Even if you're not a foreign coin collector, this album will make you consider collecting the attractive coins of other lands, now that they can be so beautifully mounted and displayed.

The first three pages are ready. They are:

- #1. CANADA: 20th Century silver, nickel, and copper coins of Victoria, Edward VII, and George V.
- #2. CANADA: silver, nickel, brass and copper coins of George VI.
- #3. UNITED STATES: 20th Century silver, nickel, and copper coins (type collection).

PRICE: $1.25 for each page, postpaid.

If you want these pages, be sure to ask your dealer for them soon, as the supply is limited. If your dealer doesn't have them, write to us direct.

Future pages will cover the world, and will be issued as fast as your patronage and material supplies permit. 20th Century coins will be completed first.

DEALERS: Write for discount.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I have diligently searched throughout most of the principal cities of China for someone who is really an authority on Chinese silver Dollars. My labours were not in vain. After associating with Mr. H. Chang of the Chinese Numismatic Gallery in Shanghai for several months, I was convinced that he is the best informed man in the world on this subject.

As a result of our association we are happy to announce our forthcoming book,

CHINESE SILVER DOLLARS

By

H. Chang and Dennis W. Sibert

Due to the fact that a number of noted collections have contained bogus pieces or "coins" that never existed, we have devoted an entire chapter to bogus and counterfeit Chinese silver Dollars, with actual photographs of these fakes.

For the photography we have had available the E. Kahn collection, one of the finest of Chinese silver Dollars ever assembled. Most of these silver Dollars are uniquely different, and, with the exception of a few coins, actual size photos accompany every description.

This book contains much information that has never before been published. Over one hundred experts have been consulted regarding the many minor features that are too numerous to mention here.

One feature of outstanding value to the collector is a table of comparative rarity, giving the approximate number of each of these coins in existence.

The book itself will be beautiful—the finest work of art that the modern publisher can produce.

It may be obtained by reservation only, and only one hundred copies above actual requests will be published. The price is ten dollars.

Authoritative—Up-to-Date—Illustrated

The values of U. S. Coins change constantly. Know what your collection is worth. This Whitman Handbook includes new prices, illustrations and facts about coins.

Beginners and advanced collectors alike find this book a definite aid in classifying and appraising coins. It is easy to understand, removes the guesswork, and assures greater enjoyment from a coin collection. Pocket size 5½x7¾ in., 128 sewed pages. Cloth bound, with gold-stamped cover.

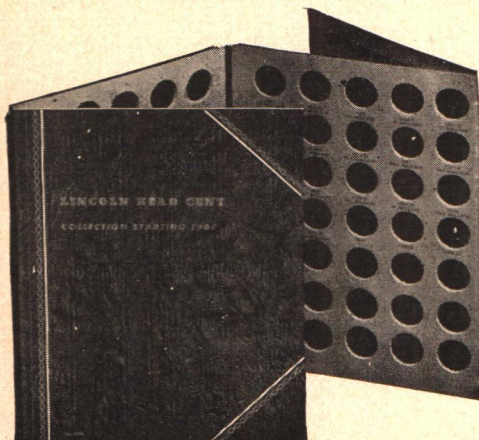

PRICE 50c

From Your Dealer

If your hobby dealer does not have Whitman's Handbook in stock, he'll no doubt have it later.

COIN FOLDERS

Whitman Coin Folders are made for 29 different types of coins. At this time the demand for these folders exceeds the supply. If your hobby dealer does not have the type you want now, he probably will have it when you ask again.

DELUXE COIN CABINETS

Nearly all coin cabinets have been off the market during the war, as government priorities prohibited the manufacture, due to the hardware and other materials needed for defense. Fortunately, we have been able to obtain a contract to purchase a LIMITED NUMBER of cabinets, as specifications below, just what every collector is looking for, and unable to locate. Most cabinets that hold 1,000 coins or more usually sell for $20 or upward, and these are priced at practically pre-war prices. If you are in need of a nice cabinet, you will not delay your order, for these will sell very quickly.

STACK'S—

Take pride in announcing that the celebrated collection formed by the late

CHAS. H. DEETZ

of Washington, D. C.

will be sold by us this fall at

PUBLIC AUCTION

(Mr. Deetz claimed that he had attended more auction sales in the last 50 years than any other collector.)

His collection of U. S. LARGE CENTS contains 13 varieties of 1793, including three Liberty Caps; about 25 varieties of 1794; one of the largest groups of 1796 ever offered; three of 1799, one a real gem; several of 1804; many early and later dates, uncirculated.

His HALF DOLLARS are notable for they include a brilliant proof of 1796, and gem uncirculated 1794 and 1795.

SILVER DOLLARS from 1794, including proofs of 1836, both types; 1838, 1839, 1851, 1852, 1858, etc., and choice coins from the 1856 small Cent to gold.

A SUPERB COLLECTION OF ANCIENTS!

We could write several pages on the choice ROMAN BRONZES and the GREEK SILVER, this last including several Decadrachms of Syracuse.

THE ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE will be ready shortly; a very limited issue. Order your copy now, price $1.00; a list of prices realized will be furnished without further cost after the conclusion of the sale.

MAJOR COLLECTIONS—

Certainly we like to handle them; but the collector with the smaller accumulation receives the same courteous consideration for which Stack's are noted.

In our fall sales we will include the small but valuable collections of

MR. JOHN ZIDLICH, Guttenberg, New Jersey

MR. CRAWFORD SMITH, Chardon, Ohio

and several other consignments from Vermont and California.

Remember, Stack's have set a standard of service which has not been excelled elsewhere

We have a three-way sales service:

1. Outright purchase for immediate cash;
2. Public auction sale;
3. Brokerage sale on a percentage basis
(see our advertisement on next page).

SO—if you are thinking of disposing of your collection in this present day active market, it will pay you to get in touch with us first.

Special Department of

COIN BROKERAGE

This department is created for the collector who is reluctant to sell at auction, or to submit his coins for an offer. All you have to do is to send them in with THE PRICES YOU WANT, and we will endeavor to sell them for you at the prices YOU SUGGEST.

THERE IS NO GUESS WORK; YOU WILL KNOW IMMEDIATELY HOW MUCH YOU WILL RECEIVE FOR YOUR COINS.

Our large "over the counter" and mail order departments give you an advantage few dealers can offer. An enormous number of collectors visit our salesroom every year, and our competent staff of experts know how to sell your coins.

Our nominal brokerage fee is your only cost. No extra charge for insurance against fire or theft.

Brokerage Fees:

$ 25.00 Coins	15%
$ 50.00 Coins	12½%
$100.00 or more	10%

Unless in conjunction with a collection, individual coins valued at less than $25.00 are respectfully declined. Correspondence invited.

Hundreds of collectors have found this a very successful service. Why not try a small consignment and be surprised at our quick results?

PROMPT SETTLEMENTS GUARANTEED.

The Coin Collectors' ALMANAC, by Hans M. F. Schulman and H. W. Holzer, with contributions by leading experts. Send orders to Mr. Schulman at 545 Fifth Avenue, New York 17, N. Y.

LONG, long ago, coin collectors relied mainly on their own judgment, when buying or selling coins. Sometimes they were right, sometimes wrong.

Today, there is a way to be 100 per cent right. Many collectors have found this way, many more are bound to discover it as time goes on.

Whether you are buying coins, selling coins, or cataloguing coins, it will be to your advantage to consult H. W. Holzer, Independent Numismatic Counsellor, at 42-52 Layton Street, Elmhurst, N. Y. Just drop him a line.

COMPLETE COLLECTIONS of general nature are being sought by two clients. Correspondence will be treated confidentially.

H. W. HOLZER PRESENTS

FOREIGN SILVER DOLLARS

(Recently brought from Europe by a collector who retained some pieces, common and rare, for his own collection, and is herewith offering the balance. Send money AFTER your order is acknowledged, please. Allow for postage. Checks payable to H. W. Holzer, 42-52 Layton Street, Elmhurst, N. Y.)

A CORRECTION

Through an oversight in making up the copy for our July advertisement, the price of the

CENTENARIOS

was quoted at $55.00, when, on account of the raise in Mexico of the price of gold from $35.00 to $40.61 per ounce, it should have been

$60.00

Numismatists will find the new book, "COINS OF THE POPES," an invaluable aid in the study and collection of papal coins and medals, the complete enjoyment of which has always been hampered by a lack of books on the subject in English. Contains list of Papal mints and their histories; a guide to engravers, and an alphabetical arrangement of the English translations of almost 500 inscriptions, in most cases with scriptural or other source. Postpaid, $3.50.

WANTED TO BUY

The following dates of Half Dollars in fine condition; our client is not interested in MINT MARKS; 1795, 1801, 2, 3, 50, 51, 52, 62, 7, 8, 70, 1 and 1880 to 1891 inclusive. If you have any of these dates, please quote us OUR cost; also want GOLD coins, dated 1889, and SHIELD Nickels of all dates.

WE HAVE FOR SALE

many, many dates of Barber Quarters and Half Dollars. Your want list is solicited.

WE ALWAYS WANT TO BUY COINS

We have a nice mixture of Transportation Tokens at $10.00 per 100. We also buy and sell U. S. stamps.

Coin and Stamp Store

IF YOU BUY MODERATELY PRICED COINS OF THE BETTER CLASS

I have just purchased a collection of U. S. coins, strong in specimens in very nice condition: Half Dollars in early dates, a choice lot of extremely fine Half Cents, a good lot (no rarities) of desirable early large Cents.

Also have a beautiful lot of early European Crowns, mostly unc.; and a nice lot of unc. U. S. Fractional Currency.

This ad will not interest scalpers who may think I am a beginner and do not know values. Let me say that I started my first collection of coins in 1885; I attended all the coin auctions in Chicago for many years, and have broken up a number of valuable collections.
